Vectra's Port and Maritime Solutions

ISPS and Regulatory Compliance

Vectra has the experience and depth of understanding to interpret current legislation to ensure that compliance with the ISPS code and other requirements augments your existing security and does not impinge on your freedom.

ISPS

Vectra can ensure your ISPS compliance. Our service includes a security assessment, drafting Port and Maritime security plans, arranging for their verification and implementation, and thereafter working to ensure that your facilities maintain standards through a combination of security audits and training. We ensure that the ISPS regime dovetails into your facility's existing security so you are not inconvenienced.

ISPS and ISM audits

We can conduct a periodic third party audit of your vessel or fleet to ensure standards are in accordance with international obligations, suggest recommendations and carry out remedial work so that you operate within legislative guidelines.

Our consultants are ISPS trained and accredited in incident management, crisis response and security awareness, and can bring to bare extensive experience in a range of professional consulting services including:

- Security Management
- Physical, personnel, personal and information security policy, standards, procedures and practical advice
- Business Continuity Management
- Business Continuity & Disaster Recovery Planning
- Crisis Management and Emergency Response
- Exercising and Simulation
- Training for all aspects of business continuity, crisis, emergency and security management.
- Risk Analysis, Assessment & Management
